To apply to our graduate program, the application is available electronically on the Graduate School’s website: http://graduateschool.colostate.edu/. Due to increasing printing costs and the decreased use of the paper application, we no longer provide paper copies of the U.S. Application.

You can locate the University catalog/bulletin on the Admissions web site: http://catalog.colostate.edu/.

The form for applying for financial aid lists a number of potential categories. To apply for teaching or research assistantships, fellowships, or traineeships, it is not necessary to supply information on financial need, since financial need is not a factor in making these awards. Other types of financial aid may be applied for at Colorado State’s Student Financial Services; their telephone number is (970) 491-6321, sfs.colostate.edu/. This website also gives information on tuition costs, residency requirements, etc.

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) aptitude test is required for all applicants. Test scores should be sent directly to Colorado State University from Education Testing. Remember, it takes approximately six weeks for us to get scores after you take the test.

Our Department suggested deadlines for applying to our graduate program are:
- Fall/Summer semester – February 1, top priority or March 1 regular admission
- Spring semester – August 1

However, due to the competitive nature of our program, you should have your application submitted/completed as soon as possible with the on-line Graduate Application and statement letter to Admissions Office or Graduate School and the following information sent directly to our Department.

1. Resume
2. Three letters of recommendation on letterhead
3. Two original transcripts from all universities attended
4. GRE test scores
